

“Food Sovereignty Case Studies conducted by National Congress of American Indians”

Sadie Red Eagle
Taylor Thompson
Jann Hayman

Discussion Prompts

1. How can food sovereignty initiatives be housed within tribal governments?
2. How can partnerships with universities, federal agencies, and intertribal organizations support food sovereignty initiatives?
3. Food sovereignty principles can be applied differently in different regions and tribal settings. Discuss the similarities and differences in how these programs are conceived and implemented in the Yurok Tribe on Osage Nation.

Helpful Links

National Congress of American Indians, Yurok Tribe Case Study
<https://www.ncai.org/ptg/Yurok.Tribe.Case.Study.pdf>

National Congress of American Indians, Osage Nation Case Study
<https://www.ncai.org/ptg/Osage.Nation.Case.Study.pdf>

Intertribal Agriculture Council
<https://www.indianag.org>

Indigenous Food and Agriculture Initiative, University of Arkansas
<https://indigenousfoodandag.com>

Osage Nation / Harvest Land
<https://www.osagenation-nsn.gov/services/department-natural-resources/harvest-land>

